Gap at Glen Brook is a program for students ages 18-21. We ask our students to be positive community members, active in making meaningful experiences, ready to try new things and face new challenges. Gap at Glen Brook is neither a rehabilitation program nor a place to deal with behavioral or psychological problems. It is a place for independent adults to learn and work together.

Gap at Glen Brook is a program of Camp Glen Brook. Camp Glen Brook is the New Hampshire campus of the Waldorf School of Garden City.

If notice of cancellation is received within 45 days of the program start date the participant will forfeit the entire tuition. Any participant who leaves the program early will not receive a refund.

If, for whatever reason, the Gap at Glen Brook program is canceled in its entirety, you will receive a full refund.

Course Content. All participants and families are advised to note that course itineraries are subject to change. When changes are made to incorporate student goals and interests, adjust to the health of the group, or made necessary because of foul weather, problems with transportation, or any other unforeseen problem, we will work to structure the course so that it stays true to its original intent.

Respectful Behavior. In order to promote a positive environment for all, it is essential that every individual behave in a respectful manner, whether that be with fellow participants or Gap at Glen Brook staff, or others you engage with during your program.

Discrimination, intolerance, harassment, bullying, acts of violence or any behavior that disrupts a positive group environment or puts the health or safety of any participant (including yourself) at risk may result in immediate dismissal from the program.
